

2020 Election Forensic Audit Resolution

Whereas Dominion voting machines, hardware and software were initially designed to keep dictators in countries like Venezuela in power through the manipulation of the tabulated results.

Whereas Dominion and sister company, Smartmatic, have been identified around the world as having multiple problems with voting accuracy.

Whereas Dominion has begun operations using software algorithms that have the ability to change votes.

Whereas Dominion, with a reputation as a corrupt organization, now expects Wisconsin to allow its voters to accept their hardware and software through the blessings of an unelected, supposedly non-partisan body of bureaucrats – the Wisconsin Election Commission.

Whereas on Wednesday, June 2, 2021, the WEC voted 4-2 to accept Dominion's software upgrades that use a modem that has not been certified by the federal government.

Whereas to approve the use of Dominion products in Wisconsin should not even be considered until the forensic audit of the Arizona 2020 presidential election is complete and a report generated and made public.

Whereas a major problem with what happened in Wisconsin last year was the loss of ballot chain of custody, by allowing ballot drop boxes in large cities and in areas such as parks, which does not allow secure chain of custody.

Whereas voters residing in nursing home or long-term care facilities are vulnerable to undue influence, it is necessary to prohibit any employee of such a facility from influencing a voter's decision to cast or not cast a ballot, or influencing a voter to cast a ballot for a particular candidate.

Whereas another major problem was municipalities accepting money from private organizations with strings attached, which allowed non-election personnel to manage and control our voting and counting processes.

Therefore, the Wisconsin Legislature must conduct a forensic audit of the state's 2020 presidential election results to give Wisconsin voters confidence that the next election will not be clouded by voting irregularities, whether they are the result of using Dominion products or others.
